

Now for Peace: For the peaceful next step

In the World of rising global instability, Now for Peace(NFP) brings an actionable plan to unite humanity through community oriented practices and idea of becoming nationalistic about the whole World.

This movement advocates strongly for. For testing an alternative way for humankind. Through community leaders, artists, scientists, engineers and businesses aligning to design the radically transparent plan of an experiment which will avoid major conflict of interest and uncover greater future for the humanity.

Manifesto document

The current world order is defined by competition and inevitable conflict of interests.

Corporations/governments/institution are stuck, having no defined alternative to exit.

The goal is to propose a defined alternative experiment to undertake. Empowered alliance of peace-oriented scientists, engineers, communities, entrepreneurs, artists and politicians to step into the global spotlight and offer the peaceful alternative to the world order which we can agree upon.

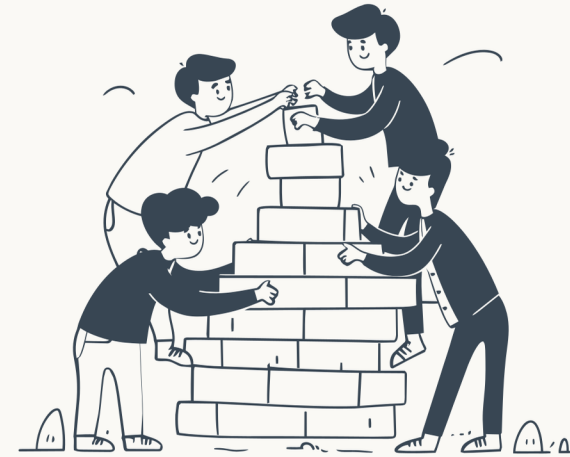

Our Proposition: Not a Protest, But a Plan

Now for Peace is not a protest movement. We are not against, not left or right, and not here to destroy. Instead, we propose an actionable plan based on decades-long research and practice showing how to positively augment the current world through community-oriented practices and political engineering (morality) to make win for everyone.

We believe: We have to rebuild trust between each other before continuing with super intelligent AI

We want: To give governments and corporations a peaceful backdoor which avoids major conflict of interests

We encourage to ask: 'What are we doing and what is the alternative?'

We create a platform for rethinking, not attacking. It is a path toward opportunity, not blame."

The Challenge: A World at a Crossroads

Global Crisis

Economic recession is on the way whilst nations manage conflict through power dynamics due to conflict of interest and lack of shared purpose.

AI-Driven Risks

Technological advancement threatens millions of jobs and potentially the future of civilisation itself.

Loss of Meaning

Exploding rates of anxiety, addictions and depression - especially youth; extreme ideologies fill the void while disconnection fuels apathy or aggression 4 not cooperation.

Paradox of Trust

We have long history and understanding of challenges in human trust but civilisation holds higher hopes for super intelligent computers which can act in unpredictable manner.

Overlooked Solutions

Community-oriented organisations have been largely ignored despite holding critical answers to systemic challenges.

"There is no imminent asteroid threatening us, all our main problems are of our own making"-Jared Diamond

Experiment

Create and launch a 1-month global alternative experiment grounded in existing research and practice. A mission-aligned alliance will co-create a consensus-based, actionable plan for the world to experience a living alternative.

Global Values/Mindset

- Establishing the new sense of relation and trust through promoting the idea of global citizenship, while fostering national uniqueness.
- Incremental shift from solely personal profit to a balance of money and social value

Communication

- Develop non-violent, inclusive messaging to address cynicism and trauma to foster the transition to peace
- Enabled by a platform created by psychologists

Education

- Introduce community-oriented ways of organising social structures and economy
- Highlight community-oriented solutions and explain the potential

Redistribution

- Implement incremental financial redistribution to support peace-building structures and innovation
- Use transparent blockchain-based solutions

"Creating the situation where global governments, institutions and cooperations are pulled to support this plan"

Real actions

Pull the tech companies to support the humane plan, creating the opportunity to have a peaceful backdoor.

Social Media Campaign

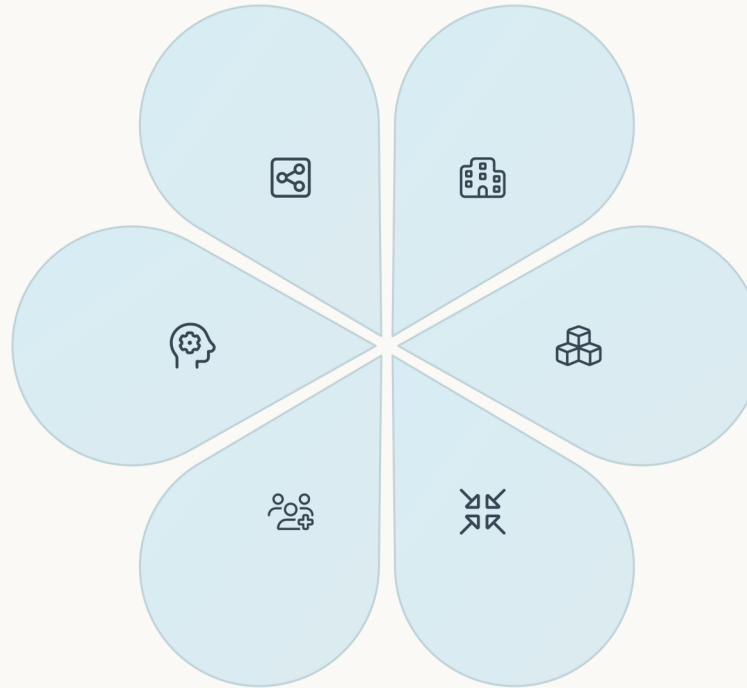

- Content about community organisation; highlighting practical benefits and reality
- Education about the experiment parts
- Building digital community

AI tools

- Consultation of public about community-orientation
- Psychological support during transition

Nudged way of decision making

- Involve people around the world to make decisions using Sociocracy principles and inclusive voting

Governments and corporations

- Consultancy & creation of actionable manuals for governments to integrate the project to existing structures.
- Pulling corporations to donate to transparent treasury

Blockchain treasury

- Transparent donation, reward and financing system for community-oriented initiatives

Collaboration between initiatives

- Encouraging the existing community-oriented organisations to collaborate and form autonomous international teams

Why Now? The Window of Opportunity

With over 86% of the global population capable of reading and 68% having internet access, agreeing on a truly global vision is possible for the first time in history.

AI and Internet enable the collaboration at unprecedented scale. People increasingly seek for connection and meaning while corporations and government struggle with fierce competition and conflict of interests.

The urgency is highlighted by risks of slipping into chaos: divided blocs, AI out of control, jobs displacement, trust no one as the way to be strong, ecological despair, and rising violence.

Universal values of peace and collaboration over competition can provide resolution to wicked problems whilst avoiding major conflicts of interest.

"We have accomplished so much in this world that goes against human nature⁴ so why does the challenge of achieving peace frighten us?" -Rut Yirdaw

Steps of the Action Plan

Mission, Vision and Goal

Mission

Bring community-oriented doers together and lead their vision to the mainstream.

Vision

A world where humanity becomes nationalistic about the whole planet, realising the ultimate global value - peace.

Goal

Collect 1 billion signatures from every corner of the globe, each symbolising readiness for a different path, and facilitate the experiment when ready.

"The conflicts and destructions can happen any moment but the peace can be preserved only now"

Challenges and Opportunities

Current Challenges

- Threatening jobs and potentially civilisation
- Rising global conflicts and instability lead world to economic recession
- Focus on climate issues is replaced by wars
- Rising inequality in wealth brings instability and distrust
- Diminishing hope for a better future
- Crisis of trust, truth and authority
- Ongoing mental health downturn

Our Opportunities

- Community organisations led uniquely by groups of people, creating new work places and sense of belonging
- Stabilisation may prevent economic downfall
- World peace aligns people to focus on uncontrolled threats
- Incremental redistribution creates opportunities for all
- Uniting globally gives faith in collective potential, new identity
- Opportunity for institutions to rehabilitate & evolve
- Taking time to prepare society for AI advancement

Evolving the World Order

Current World Order

- Unstable, highly competitive situation
- People start to trust AI more than other humans
- Money as the main incentive
- Nationalism focused on single nations
- "Strong eats weak" mindset
- Highly centralised wealth

Developing World Order

- Collaboration enables meaningful innovation
- Promoting basic human needs in preparation for AI advancement
- Global value as incentive
- Civilisation-focused nationalism
- "Strong supports strong" mindset
- Redistribution empowering innovation opening new markets and technologies

"The world has opportunity to unite under essential shared purpose: to live in peace"

The Team and Core Values

The Team (in formation)

NowforPeace core teamserves as an intermediary gatherer3 connector of people, resources, and information. The plan will be developed by peace-building organisations including:

- The Venus Project / Fresco Foundation
- ARIA (Culture Commons Quest Office)
- Open Collective / Commons Stack
- University of Helsinki
- HelpBnk
- Ashoka
- ODD fest

Core Values

- Theworld has a chance to cool down and ask: What's the alternative?
- Scholars and practitioners have imagined and propose alternatives
- All living creatures share the moment of now and one common planet
- Critical thinking starts from these shared truths
- Action for unity, not protest for division
- Our civilisation is making a collective mistake; we propose an alternative

What is needed Now

Allience of mission driven doers

Gather the brightest global community-oriented minds who hold neutral position and ready to hold empathetic and highly inclusive standpoint to empower them to merge their visions in one actionable plan.

Team of volunteers

Gather the international team of mission-aligned volunteers to organise internationally for spreading the message and preparing for the launch of the project

Budget of 200 thousand euro

For the 2 initial months. Covering salaries, building identity, enabling digital infrastructure, creating web page, creating content, covering travelling costs, getting legal consultancy and unexpected costs

Who is behind?

"The World is complex but I feel responsible for it (my home), that's why I invite people to look at the World through the lens of 22 yo human".

I don't want global dominance, I want to eat tasty food, build family, enjoy nature, contribute to better world and have people to whom I can relate.

Our civilisation's development is fascinating but it feels that now is the time to pause, ask better questions and pay attention to our basic human needs. We need more global trust before continuing with building super intelligent computers.

Let's keep our national identities, let's preserve our traditions, let's continue with what works but let's try to augment it with global identity of global citizens. Let's try it for 1 month and see what happens, what are we losing?

Now for Peace started by me, 21 years old Nikita Sushko. Immigrant from a Ukrainian-Russian family now living in Finland. I finished International Business degree and work on building a small wood design company.

I have no financial, political or institutional interest I just want future

My immigrant experience made me go through different extremes but what always intrigued me is "what is common between all people?" I see clearly:

- Our planet
- The shared moment of now we all exist in

We humans developed so much because we know better than any other animal about how to trust each other and collaborate in very large scale. Those are our biggest strenghts and now they are as important as ever.

Competition with each other. But does it really drive us forward? Don't we have an opportunity to agree on something deeply beneficial and universal? Is there a way to agree on global value of peace and then continue solving other issue? Don't we have every enabling technology for that?
